

Hello Neighbors,

About 2 weeks ago you received a newsletter from Quality Property Management. It provided a lot of information about the current activity in our community and their interest in keeping us up to date in preparation of a future transition to running our HOA.

The TAC (Transitional Advisory Committee) apparently will also be providing additional updates. I'm grateful to see that happening. With this new advent of information, the unofficial May Newsletter doesn't seem necessary.

I look forward to this new era of transparency and disclosure and intend to watch what develops over the next month. June topics will include the Reserve Account update, Lot 39 and it's possible costs to our HOA, weed abatement on empty lots and Ag Buffer, and an update on the landscaping with the new contractor.

Also, QPM indicated the possibility of a ZOOM meeting in the near future with all HOA members. Hopefully it will be well attended by interested community members.

Until next month,

Dana Henderson
